HAVE YOU EVER WANTED TO BE part of a school that educates, inspires, into tomorrow's confident female leaders of character?

Let us show you how.

WHO WE ARE

An independent, Catholic school for girls in grades 5-12. We strive to always take the best aspects of Catholic teaching and interpret it in the modern context for the confident young woman of today, such that they are able to internalize these values and live them willingly. With us, girls are imbued with a strong work ethic, sense of purpose and a desire to change the world for the better. We cultivate competition with compassion – nurturing the desire to excel and get ahead, but not at any cost.

Founded in 1964 by the Felician Sisters, Holy Name of Mary rapidly built a reputation for academic excellence and commitment to social action and service – a thriving tradition maintained to this day. In 2008, the school was re-established as Holy Name of Mary College School, supported by St. Michael's College School of Toronto.

Today, we are a progressive, vibrant community that provides girls with rich educational opportunities and a multitude of co-curricular activities to ignite interests and broaden horizons. We continue to focus on academic excellence, building on the foundation established by the Felician Sisters, and offer an enriched university preparatory curriculum, fostering high academic standards for teaching and learning. This is enabled by our inspiring faculty, who are incredibly involved and invested, together with you, in your daughter's success.

WHAT WE DO

At HNMCS, we take pride in a sustained culture of growth tailored to the individual learning style of each girl. Our enriched curriculum provides girls with a multitude of opportunities to develop their skills and interests in an environment that facilitates optimal learning.

Why should you choose an all-girls school? Because research shows that graduates from all-girls schools achieve greater academic success, possess more self-confidence and build stronger leadership skills. Further, our affiliation with St. Michael's College School gives us the benefits of co-ed activities such as theatre arts, symposiums, co-curricular activities, social justice initiatives, field trips and social events.

A vibrant palette of academics, athletics, the arts, outdoor initiatives, and co-curricular activities provides limitless opportunities for leadership and enriching experiences for our girls to find their voice as leaders. Our education also integrates issues of importance to today's young woman, such as environmental stewardship and sustainability. We believe in significant change, and are the catalyst for that change — helping each girl be the best that she can be and achieve more. This is why we are so confident that our formative education is unique and unparalleled in many respects.

It's time to ask the question: What matters to you?

MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD OF SCHOOL

Welcome to Holy Name of Mary College School and the journey to finding the best school for your daughter. It is my distinct pleasure to open the doors to our school where you will see empowered, creative, and inspirational girls working together with educators to celebrate the uniqueness of each girl through innovative, student-centred university preparatory programming. Through our four pillars: compassion, justice, respect and transformation, each girl finds her confidence, joy, and personal and spiritual growth.

As a girls' school, we successfully tailor the curriculum to meet the needs of girls in the modern world. Understanding that an excellent education does not simply teach girls to be good test takers, but rather how to successfully collaborate, problem-solve, and find creative solutions. We foster a community that encourages exploration, intellectual risk-taking, and asks girls to be reflective and explore who they are authentically as leaders.

Our culture is one of a vibrant sacramental life built for today's girls. The moral compass that she will gain and develop works to not only help shape her mind, but also her heart. As change is one of the only certainties in today's world, our programme prepares her for dealing with the many different challenges, opportunities, and situations that will arrive for her in university and beyond.

Our school allows for the girl to be at the centre of everything that we do and we design her day to help her discover what brings her joy. From understanding that a girl's peers are just as important in her growth as her family and her teachers, we structure opportunities in and beyond the classroom to help facilitate her long term personal path. We help her to realize her strengths from the inside and surround her with bright, caring, and inspirational teachers to guide her through this journey of self-discovery. It is through these dynamic relationships that each girl is encouraged to challenge herself, to seize the opportunities around her while creating her own, and to optimize her learning potential to shape her own success. Although each girl's path is individual, we provide varied opportunities through our co-curriculars, STEM, specialized programmes, differentiated learning, and innovation time for the girls to explore the entire experiential and educational design process.

It is through a shared commitment between students, families, teachers, and administration that our school has become a special place to learn, grow, and thrive. Our achievements are built upon the strength of the whole community and we value these relationships with our students and her family.

I invite you to enter into our learning community where you will see that girls are at the centre of everything we do and are inspired to aim for the stars.

I look forward to meeting you,

Carrie Hughes-Grant, Head of School

ADMISSIONS

INFORMATION AND REQUIREMENTS

Holy Name of Mary College School welcomes applications from candidates eager to be a part of our collaborative, innovative, student-centred learning environment.

School Policies

Academic:

When a candidate and her parents/guardians choose HNMCS, it is regarded as an expression of trust in the school's educational philosophy and its programme of studies. A student commits herself to completing each year of the programme in accordance with the academic policies of the school. If for enrichment a student wishes to take a course outside of the school, it must be pre-approved by the Director of Academics.

Religious:

As guided by our founding principles, we offer a high quality education hand-in-hand with faith formation. Our student body includes students who are Catholic, Christian or non-denominational, and our endeavour is to nurture the girls' relationship with their faith throughout their time at HNMCS.

It is our expectation that all students will successfully complete one religion course each year, will participate in the religious life of the school, and will be an active participant in their faith. These policies are necessary in order to preserve the Catholic character of Holy Name of Mary College School and to ensure that the student will give herself as fully as possible to all its aspects – curricular and co-curricular. Our goal is to enable students to acquire a well-rounded liberal arts education and to prepare her for the demands of university studies.
